Send all orders direct to us, and they will be filled satisfactorily. Deal with a company that will insure you satisfaction.

Good Luck to You!

Good Luck to you, my friends. You have my sincere wishes for your future health, wealth, and happiness. I surely appreciate the orders that were sent in response to my last catalog, and I can assure you that I have filled them to my very best ability. It is my intention that my customers are satisfied at all times for I know that in that way they will deal with us always. I have always gladly lived up to our guarantee of perfect satisfaction or your money back. For this reason, I know that you will be interested in the reading of the following data, the interesting tales of curios, tokens, and amulets.

It is indeed interesting, this unusual story of antiques, curios, tokens, and other amulets. The history should entrance you. You should marvel at the tales that have been told, at the mystery surrounding these unusual goods. With ancient lore and the stories of our forefathers, we have brought down to us much interesting data: From the earliest days, yes, even up to today, the various peoples of this world have believed that certain curios, tokens, emblems, amulets, and other items of this nature appeared to have their own significance, and their own mysterious power, whether mental or material, we do not know, for its owners. Sprinkled through ancient literature we find references made to amulets and curios, such as the Swastika, the four-leaf clover, roots, bones, and lodestone. Pavitt, in his book on this subject, writes as follows:

"From remotest times, even back to the birth of humanity, precious stones and talismans have been held in high estimation by all nations; the former primarily for their beauty, and the latter on account of their virtues as transmitters of good luck and to avert misfortune."

"As tokens or symbols they conveyed joy and confidence to their owners and were thought to give warning of coming events and inspiring courage and faith in the fearful; and the tragedies on which they have played a part together with their marked influence on the lives of individuals and nations, intensifies our interest in them so that it is little wonder that faith in their mysterious properties should have survived the growth of ages and still find so many believers in all countries."

In referring to emeralds, on page 11, Pavitt in his book of Talismans, says: "The Romans believed that nothing evil could remain in the presence of this gem which discovered falsehood and treachery by changing colour and turning pale, and when powerless to avert misfortune would fall from its setting, giving rise to the belief that the falling of this gem is a bad omen."

DEAL WITH A RELIABLE CONCERN

Many references are made to various jewels and stones with their alleged powers. In his book he refers to lodestone and mentions as follows:

"Claudius, a Roman poet, mentions a statue of Venus made of Lodestone and one of Mars in iron in the same temple that they might be attracted together at the marriage ceremonies, the Romans believing that this stone kept husband and wife faithful and their love secure. Orpheus attributed to Lodestone the power of attracting the love of others, and it was frequently set in wedding rings for this purpose. In India it is believed to give vitality to those who wear it and it is very popular amongst Mohammedans."

We have a very thorough selection of these items and reproductions of same for you to select from. The question as to whether certain curios, amulets, talismans and tokens can accomplish the deeds attributed to them cannot be determined since there is no actual authority on these subjects. Each curio is of peculiar value to its owner, based entirely upon the power of his belief in it. Many who purchase these profess profound belief in that mysterious power, either mental or material, which helped them derive benefits by aid of these talismans. It is true, however, that the customs and beliefs of the various religions with their attendant talisman have helped considerably those individuals who believed in them, and have indeed made them happier.

We know you will be interested in purchasing from this wonderful collection of curios, amulets, talismans, rings, and other items specially prepared as being emblematical or reproductions of those interesting tokens of the past with the accompanying tales describing them, as reminders of the past indicating the value attached to them in the ancient lore of the various peoples. These goods are sold by us as wonderful curios and we believe you will delight in owning them. While we do not make any unusual representations for any of the goods in this catalog, we are proud of the fact that we have a full selection of the most interesting talisman reproductions, curios, and amulets in the country.

MAGIC PLAYING CARDS

These cards can be read from the back as well as the front. Easy as telling time.

No study or practice is necessary

Complete instructions sent with every order.

We manufacture five decks. Each of these is entirely different. Special tricks can be performed with each.

No. 647. Deland's Dollar Deck—This deck contains over 1,200 secret marks. Some seemingly impossible feats in magic can be performed with it.

No. 648. Daisy Deck—The backs of this deck contain a system of marks which can be read at a distance of 15 feet; wonderful for stage use.

No. 649. Nifty Deck—This deck is especially suited for long distance reading. The directions tell you how to accomplish some seemingly impossible feats.

No. 650. Adam's League Deck—These cards can be "told" from the back as well as the front. You can perform an entire act in magic with their aid.

No. 651. Star Deck—This is the latest addition to our Magic Decks. It contains a smaller design than any of the others. It is easy to read when the secret is known, otherwise detection of the secret marks is almost impossible.

No. 652. Special B Deck—It is easy to read when the secret is known; otherwise detection of the secret marks is almost impossible.

With these cards YOU should be able to accomplish feats in magic equal to any performed by professional magicians.

PRICE PER DECK—ONE DOLLAR

THE SIXTH AND SEVENTH BOOKS OF MOSES!

Believed to contain exact copies of over One Hundred and Twenty-five Seals, signs, Emblems, etc., used by Moses, Aaron, Israelites, Egyptians, etc., in their magical and other arts. Moses, the great law-giver of Israel, is believed to have wrote the first five books of Holy Writ, known as the Five Books of Moses. It is believed that there were two more books written by him known as the Sixth and Seventh Books of Moses. Writing, manuscript, etc., of precious worth have existed for ages past that could be traced to the time of Moses, but few of these have been published, except in small portions. This is accounted for by the fact that the high priests, clergy, and heads of various religious bodies were unwilling that the people should be given those deeper mysteries, being fearful of losing their hold on them. Moses acquired, during his residence at the Court of Pharaoh, many Egyptian arts in his constant intercourse with learned men. It is pronounced the most wonderful work ever published. Contains many mysterious rules, instructions, guides, mystic symbols, seals, weird tales, etc. A wonderful curio book.
